Biographical Sketches

Douglas Haynes

Douglas Haynes is the inaugural vice chancellor for Equity, Diversity and Inclusion, UC's chief diversity officer and professor in the Department of History in the School of Humanities.

Dr. Haynes has elevated attention to inclusive excellence as an institutional priority. In this role, he leads a comprehensive effort to establish UCI as a campus community and UC as a Minority Thriving University where all expect equity, support diversity, practice inclusion and honor free speech.

As UCI’s senior executive responsible for providing a holistic and integrated vision for all major equity, diversity, and inclusion activities on campus and at UCI Health, he leads a comprehensive effort to conceptualize, cultivate and assess inclusive excellence as an ongoing institutional value and educational asset. He spearheaded UCI’s successful push to earn federal designations as a Hispanic-serving institution and an Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander-serving institution, as well as the recognition of UCI by the American Association for the Advancement of Science STEMM Equity Achievement (SEA) Change Program as a bronze awardee and charter member to advance diversity, equity and inclusion in STEMM fields.

A professor of history, Dr. Haynes has published extensively on the history of medicine and science and was founding director of the Center for Medical Humanities. He has been an active faculty member in the Department of African American Studies since its founding. A native of San Francisco, he holds a Ph.D. in modern European history from UC Berkeley.
Roxane Cohen Silver is Distinguished Professor in the Department of Psychological Science, the Department of Medicine, and the Program in Public Health, and is associate director of the UCI ADVANCE Program for Equity and Diversity in the Office of Inclusive Excellence, where she has been actively involved in research, teaching, and administration since 1989. She will begin her tenure as vice provost for Academic Planning and Institutional Research on October 1. Dr. Silver has spent over four decades studying acute and long-term psychological and physical reactions to stressful life experiences, including personal traumas such as loss, physical disability, and childhood sexual victimization, as well as larger collective events such as terror attacks, war, infectious disease outbreaks, and natural disasters across the world (e.g., U.S., Indonesia, Chile, Israel).

Since 2016, she has overseen UCI’s DECADE Faculty Mentor program consisting currently of 45 faculty across the UCI campus. The goal of this program is to promote diversity among UCI’s graduate student population and foster an inclusive environment for graduate student success. Previously, Dr. Silver led a 3-year University of California-Historically Black Colleges and Universities (UC-HBCU) Pathways grant at UCI, served for 9 years as director of her department’s doctoral program, served for 5 years as DECADE mentor for her department, and co-directed her department’s institutional training grant.

Dr. Silver is also a dedicated teacher and active mentor of predoctoral and postdoctoral students, and she has chaired 30 doctoral dissertations and dozens of masters and undergraduate honors theses. In recognition of her efforts toward graduate and undergraduate education, she has received almost two dozen teaching/mentoring awards over her career, including the 2012 Distinguished Mentorship Award from the International Society for Traumatic Stress Studies, UC Irvine’s 2001 Distinguished Faculty Lectureship Award for Teaching (the 16th recipient in UCI’s history), and UCI’s inaugural Tom Angell Fellowship Faculty Award for Mentoring in 2015.
Belle Rose Ragins – Keynote Speaker

“From the Ordinary to the Extraordinary: Developing High Quality Mentoring in Diverse Academic Settings”

Dr. Belle Rose Ragins is the Sheldon B. Lubar Professor of Management at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. She is an expert in the fields of mentoring, diversity and positive relationships at work. Dr. Ragins has written more than a 100 papers for presentations and publications and has co-authored books on mentoring and positive relationships at work. She is an elected fellow of five professional associations, a Fulbright Senior Specialist Scholar and the past editor of the Academy of Management Review, one of the field’s most prestigious journals. Dr. Ragins has received numerous life-time achievement, service and teaching awards. She was recently named in Stanford University’s list of the top 2% of scientists in the world.

The goal of her workshop at the Academy is to help participants develop more effective mentoring relationships. Participants will gain a personal understanding of the characteristics of high-quality mentoring, how to build and develop effective mentorships, and the benefits of these relationships for both mentors and protégés. We will also gain an appreciation of how diversity enhances mentoring and how to optimize learning and growth in diverse mentoring relationships. Finally, we will explore the role of mentors as allies and how mentoring can facilitate DEI initiatives and inclusive organizational cultures in academic settings.
Rodrigo Lazo is a professor of English in the School of Humanities and is associate dean for diversity, equity and inclusion in the Graduate Division. His research examines American literature, broadly conceived across the Americas, and focuses on issues of migration, movement, geographic displacement, and communication across distance. He has examined a range of issues and figures in both nineteenth century and the contemporary period – from Herman Melville to Juliana Delgado Lopera and a recent examination of Spanish-language writing in Professor Lazo’s recent book: Letters from Filadelfia: Early Latino Literature and the Trans-American Elite.

In his role as associate dean for Diversity, Equity and Inclusion, Professor Lazo will work to advance graduate student support in such areas as inclusive excellence, wellness and funding, among others. Prior to this role, Professor Lazo served as the associate dean of Humanities and as director of the Humanities Core Program. He received his M.S. in journalism from Columbia University, and his Ph.D. in English from the University of Maryland.
Diane O’Dowd received her Ph.D. in biology at the University of California, San Diego, and completed a postdoctoral fellowship in neuroscience at Stanford University. She has been a professor at UC Irvine since 1989 and her research lab focuses on the exploration of the cellular mechanisms underlying epilepsy disorders. Current studies include exploration of the cellular mechanisms underlying epilepsy disorders using knock-in flies, mice, and iPSC-derived neurons from humans with the same mutations. She also conducts science education research with a focus on developing strategies that increase student learning in large introductory biology classes. In her role as vice provost for academic personnel, she oversees academic personnel processes for the main campus and medical school, including merits, promotions, recruitment and retention. In addition, Vice Provost O’Dowd is in charge of a wide range of academic policies and programs, including family friendly policies, annual pay equity studies, and professional development.

Vice Provost O’Dowd became a Howard Hughes Medical Institute (HHMI) Professor in 2006, a National Academies Education Mentor in the Life Sciences and an AAAS Fellow in 2008. She also received a number of awards, including the School of Biological Sciences Golden Apple Award (2005), UC Irvine’s Distinguished Faculty Teaching Award (2005-2006), Faculty Senate TA development award (2007), UCI Professor of the Year (2011), Student’s Choice: Best Biology Professor Award (2012), UCI Postdoctoral Service Award (2014), and a Living our Values Award, UCI (2014).

The DECADE Mentor Role & Responsibilities

DECADE Mentor Roles and Responsibilities in Support of Graduate Student Diversity, Inclusion, and Academic Success

DECADE Mentors will assist their respective programs in the identification, recruitment, and retention of an inclusive and diverse graduate student body and promote an inclusive culture among graduate students.

The Office of Inclusive Excellence will support DECADE mentors in achieving these goals through organizing DECADE-specific programming, sharing of best practices, the development of a program-specific website, and via individual support of DECADE mentor activities.

UCI’s Graduate Division will support DECADE mentors in achieving these goals via its role in coordinating UCI’s DECADE Student Council and providing program-specific admissions and retention data.

We also encourage DECADE Mentors to work with their local partners to achieve these goals:

- Collaborate with School Equity Advisor and Associate Dean to work toward improving school-wide climate.
- Partner with the program’s Graduate Director/Graduate Advisor in support of inclusive excellence at the graduate program level.
- Share/present resources and information from DECADE quarterly meetings with department faculty.

In the service of Graduate Admissions:

- Meet with the graduate program admissions committee to address goals for doctoral growth at the campus level, review previous admission decisions, and share best practices to promote holistic review. DECADE mentors may also choose to present this information at the Department level (e.g., at a Department faculty meeting).
- Work with the program’s Graduate Director/Graduate Advisor to identify outstanding diversity applicants who can be nominated for Graduate Division Diversity fellowships.
- Serve as diversity award reviewers, as requested by Graduate Division.

In the service of facilitating an inclusive graduate student community more generally:

- Encourage and practice exemplary mentorship
- Attend the annual Inclusive Excellence Institute, Academy for Inclusive Excellence, and quarterly meetings
- Participate in campus-wide OIE- and DECADE-sponsored events, as appropriate
- Meet with program/department representatives from the DECADE Student Council and, along with other DECADE mentors from one’s School/Program, advise and support School-specific DECADE Student Council and department-specific DECADE programming
- Serve as a coordinating point for the Graduate & Postdoctoral Scholar Resource Center and other career development programming for graduate students at different milestones in their program
- Participate in campus-sponsored or Graduate Division events to diversify the graduate program and/or improve the climate for graduate education
- Serve as grant reviewers, as requested by the Office of Inclusive Excellence

- Meet with candidates and other appropriate faculty
Equity Advisor Roles and Responsibilities (continued)

To improve equity in retention and advancement, Equity Advisors organize Faculty career advising programming in collaboration with their dean that is consistent with the needs and the disciplines/fields represented in his/her own school. Faculty career advising program should:

- Continue (or initiate) a New Faculty Orientation
- Include a junior and senior faculty mentoring program
- Involve men and women
- Offer welcoming opportunities for all new faculty
- Establish a support network to guide advancement: from tenure-track to tenure; from assistant to associate, from associate to full, and from full to Step VI
- Advise and support colleagues on seeking leadership opportunities
- Raise awareness of the need for equity and diversity in nominations for awards and honors
- Work with professional societies that represent the school’s discipline to network and seek assistance in advancing faculty

As applicable due to circumstances raised by the current pandemic:

- Consult as requested with faculty requesting reasonable accommodations
- Communicate campus resources and special contingencies provided to support timely merit and promotion by sharing COVID-19 guidance and updates with faculty (UCI COVID-19 resources on main webpage: https://uci.edu/coronavirus/ and specific AP Guidance for Academics: https://ap.uci.edu/covid19/)

Equity Advisors promote equity and diversity among faculty and graduate students more generally by:

- Promoting diversity in graduate student recruitment & retention through coordination of the DECADE Program
- Disseminating graduate student mentoring best practices to build and sustain an inclusive school and campus culture
- Soliciting input about climate and sharing graduate student survey results
- Raising awareness about career development programming among graduate students and faculty advisors

ABOUT THE NCFDD

The National Center for Faculty Development and Diversity (NCFDD) is an independent center that is 100% dedicated to helping faculty, particularly under-represented faculty, make a successful transition from graduate student to professor. We work with colleges, universities, organizations and individuals to ensure faculty success. Our programs and services help new faculty to increase writing productivity, maintain work-family balance, create broad networks of collegial support on their campus, and develop a committed stance towards their institutional home. We offer on-line and on-site training workshops, leadership development programs, individual coaching, and institutional consulting.

NCFDD PRESIDENT

Kerry Ann Rockquemore, Ph.D., is the president of the NCFDD. She is author of three books: Beyond Black, Raising Biracial Children, and The Black Academic’s Guide to Winning Tenure without Losing Your Soul, as well as over two dozen articles and book chapters. Kerry Ann’s award-winning work with under-represented faculty has been featured in Diverse Issues in Higher Education. She provides workshops for faculty at colleges across the U.S., writes an advice column for Inside Higher Ed, and works with a select group of faculty each semester in the NCFDD’s Faculty Success Program.

CORE CURRICULUM

The NCFDD’s core curriculum is designed to support the development of empirically-tested skills and strategies that lead to academic success. The skills and success habits that we help our members develop include, but are not limited to:

- Developing a consistent daily writing habit
- Advanced planning and prioritization
- Healthy conflict resolution
- Cultivating a broad network of mentors, sponsors, and collaborators
- Managing time in ways that are aligned with evaluation criteria
- Understanding the process for successful grant writing, journal & book publishing, etc.

The curriculum is based on empirically-tested resources, providing best practices for everyone, regardless of race, rank, and gender. Yet, the curriculum also directly addresses the unique challenges and obstacles that under-represented scholars face.
As part of our institutional membership in the National Center for Faculty Development and Diversity, campus faculty and postdoctoral fellows may participate in the Faculty Success Program at a discounted tuition rate. The Faculty Success Program provides participants with a supportive community committed to accelerating productivity and advancing career goals.

Inclusive Excellence Certificate Program

The Office of Inclusive Excellence Certificate Program equips faculty, staff, students, and UCI Alumni with skills to build and sustain a campus community where all expect equity, support diversity, practice inclusion, and honor free speech. Participants who complete the core course, UCI as a Minority Thriving University, plus one of the elective courses – either Wellness or Community – will receive an Inclusive Excellence certificate.

Additionally, offerings include modules for Confronting Anti-Blackness. These five-week opportunities engage and familiarize individuals about a range of issues related to the Black experience in the United States. Participants also may attend workshops and dialogues about related topics.

Recognize Your Expertise — Those completing courses are invited to note these accomplishments in discussions about their contributions to diversity. Staff completers are invited to apply for support from an Inclusive Excellence Alumni Fund, and faculty may apply for the competitively awarded Inclusive Excellence Spirit Award.

- For faculty, these offerings align with APM-210 (e.g., contributions to diversity) and guidance on preparing academic review files is available here.
- For staff, progress and completion of the certificate courses and other modules may be tracked on ACHIEVE (e.g., enterprise contributor and job mastery).
- For students, the certificate and other offerings provide opportunities to develop a set of career readiness competencies (communication, teamwork, and intercultural fluency).

Schedule for Fall 2021 (All Meetings via Zoom)
